YORK YEOMEN

Thursday, October 8

1986: York 24-23

The coaching duo of Frank Cosentino and Nobby Winkowski, both former CFL quarterbacks, led the Yeomen to a 3-4 record and 6th place last season. The offense scored only 102 points but a solid defense, third best overall, kept York in the playoff chase until the final game.

Defense was the key last year and Yeomen should be even stronger in '87, as all 12 starters are expected to be in action this season.

All-Star efforts are expected from noseguard Louie Taffo, linebackers Frank Paradiso and Joe Philip, plus defensive back Bill Johnston. Yeomen usually get excellent performances from their speciality teams, led by kicker George Giorgiou and return leader Tom Kapantrias.

The offense was second worst in the league in '86, and the departure of veterans Terry Douglas and George Ganas will adversely affect the running attack.

Defensive Back Shane Oldfield

MCMMASTER MARAUDERS

Saturday, October 24

1986: McMaster 23-20

This could be a major rebuilding year for the Marauders, especially at quarterback and along both lines, but Bernie Custis, the CIAU's Coach of the Year in 1982, always manages to extract maximum effort from his players.

McMaster has depth at linebacker with Mike Zahra, Kevin Leshuk, Ivan Yurgan, Graham Thomas and Lance Trimble, and also in the defensive secondary, thanks to Devon McDermott, Roger Brown, Tod Kearney and Dave Moncur.

Andre Shadrack, whose last-minute TD catch beat the Blues last season, returns at wide receiver, and the running game appears set with veterans Sam Loucks, Walter Edwards and John Sutton.

Unless Custis can work some magic with a rookie quarterback, it could be a very long season for the youthful Marauders.

Soccer Blues aim to defend title

October will be the month of decision for the men's and women's soccer Blues. The two teams play a total of 10 home games at either Varsity Stadium or the Scarborough College valley fields, and success in these games would ensure favourable seedings in the playoffs.

The men's Blues find themselves in the middle of another torrid OUAA east division playoff chase, in which five teams are separated by only three points.

Blues host first-place York on Oct. 7 at Varsity Stadium (3:00pm) and then have two more Stadium dates against teams they've already beaten—RMC on Oct. 17 (1:00pm) and Trent on Oct. 21 (8:00pm).

The playoff race could go down to the final game, set for Sat. Oct. 24 when Blues host Queen's at 1:00 at Scarborough College.

The eventual first-place finisher will host the east division quarter-final on Oct. 31 and if successful would also provide the site for the OUAA championship tournament in early November. Given the highly competitive nature of the league in '87, home advantage in the playoffs should be a very significant edge.

Blues players hope the team can build on last season's success which included the OUAA title, the CIAU silver medals and CIAU Coach of the Year accolades for mentor Jim Lefkows, now in his eighth season.

Pat Cubellis, Blues top soccer last season and a first-team CIAU All-Canadian, is back after a summer with the North York Rockets in the new Canadian Soccer League.

Captain Mark Purdy, who played for the CSL's Ottawa entry, is also back, and assistant captain Dino Mastrogiannis will control the midfield.

Striker Marco Oeluka, also with the Rockets during the summer, will provide added scoring potential. OUAA All-Star Guido Geisler will anchor the defense.

Women's Blues

The women's Blues won their first three games of the OMIAA season, and the real test comes Tuesday, Oct. 13 when U of T hosts York Yeowomen at 4:00pm in Varsity Stadium.

Blues other games this month are at Scarborough College: a doubleheader on Oct. 17—vs Trent (1:00pm) and Carleton (5:00pm) and again on Sunday Oct. 18—vs Queen's (1:00pm) and then Ryerson (5:00pm).

Varsity is gathering momentum at the right time, as the winner of the OMIAA tournament Nov. 6-8 at McMaster advances to the inaugural CIAU national women's final Nov. 14-15 to be held in Montreal.

Rockie Karen Daub has emerged as the team's top scoring threat and goalkeeper Nicky Chapman anchors a much-improved defense. Last weekend, Blues beat Queen's (2-0) for the first time in their three-year existence, and the defense stopped Carleton until the final minute in a 3-1 victory.

Field Hockey Blues set title goals

By SUE BOND

The Field Hockey Blues are well on the way to defending their CIAU and OWIAA titles. To date the Blues are undefeated in league play with a perfect 7-0 record.

Cross-town rival York Yeowomen come to Lamport Stadium on Thursday, Oct. 8 to try and upset the Blues, a feat they last accomplished in 1984. The 1986 CIAU final saw UofT blank York 2-0. The Blues continued their winning ways against York earlier this season with a 1-0 victory earned on a bumpy York field.

Thursday's match pits the top two ranked teams in Eastern Canada, York, guided by National team coaches Marina van der Merwe and Kathy Broderick, boasts three Senior National team members in Sharon Bayes, Sharon Creelman and Sandra Levy.

U of T is led by former under-21 National coach Liz Hoffman and 1987 U21 National goalkeeper coach Nancy Thomson. Blues roster also includes several current National players and future stars including current National goalkeeper Wendy Baker, three-time U21 National member and All-Canadian Bernadette Casey, former U21 National players Karen Whitfield, Vicki Smith and Ann Marie Flynn, and 89'er hopefuls Michele Nelson, Paula Studd and Stephanie Lurch.

The Varsity approach is that the team must perform as a unit. Each player must produce a maximum effort to avoid the pitfalls of reliance on a talented few.

Hoffman, a three-time CIAU Coach of the Year, says, "I really look forward to the games against York, as they are good preparation for the OWIAA finals." In order to beat York, she adds, "We have to minimize our errors and work very hard to recover whenever errors are made."

"We have to play aggressively and use our speed and fitness for the full 70 minutes."

As to Blues chances for a third consecutive CIAU title when York hosts the national tournament Oct. 30 thru Nov. 1, Hoffman is not over-confident. "Our first goal is to defend the OWIAA league title. That guarantees a berth in the CIAU tournament and then we can work towards our second goal of defending the CIAU title."

Laurie Spitz and Kim Fowler put pressure on the opposition goal.

Blues captain Wendy Baker predicts it will be a tough climb to the top. "It's going to be a very competitive season, and the OWIAA games are the first steps along the path to the nationals."

Blues have two other OWIAA league matches at Lamport Stadium—Friday, Oct. 16 at 7pm vs Guelph and Saturday, Oct. 17 at 9am vs Western. Then they travel to Carleton for the OWIAA finals on Oct. 23-25.

T-Holders Phonathon Campaign Produces Donations

Congratulations to the more than 40 T-Holders, coaches and current Varsity athletes who participated in the annual T-Holders' Associations Phonathon Sept. 30 and Oct. 1... your efforts have been most amply rewarded!

These dedicated callers raised $8,890.00 in donations to the Blues athletics programs, an increase of almost $3,500 over the 1986 Phonathon. In addition, 122 new active members have been generated for the men's and women's T-Holders' Associations.

Participating sports included basketball, swimming, soccer, rugby, fencing, men's hockey, women's volleyball, waterpolo and golf.

Just teams called alumni from other sports in addition to their own, so that the entire Varsity intercollegiate program benefitted from their efforts.

Among those staffing the phones were Rob Gibson (golf), Ed Short (Swimming), Dave McCarthy (hockey), John Sharp (track), Stu Scott (football), Nita Kavala (soccer), Michele Belanger (basketball) and Jerry Dyczkowski (soccer).

A special tip of the hat to John Gilfillan (hockey), who came to the Phonathon directly from a nearby hospital where his son had just undergone emergency appendectomy surgery!

Top callers were Eric Seery of rugby on Sept. 30 and hockey coach Paul Titanic on Oct. 1.
